INJURY TRENDS | OUR PEOPLE

Gloves are Always Better than Bandages!

Share this with your team

- In January 2021, we conducted 30 follow-up calls on hand injuries to see if the injured employee was wearing gloves.
- In 20 of the 30 hand injuries, the employee that was injured was not wearing gloves. That means about 67% of the hand injuries could have been prevented or much less severe if the employee was wearing gloves.
- GO FIRST by setting the example. You and your Management team need to wear gloves when servicing vehicles.
- As a Safety Leader, you need to encourage your non-glove wearing team members to wear gloves when servicing vehicles.
- While we know gloves won't prevent all hand injuries, it's a great start.

Gloves were not being worn in 67% of the hand injuries investigated in January 2021
